The transfer admission guarantee assures admission to the Georgia Institute of Technology for the term listed above.

Terms of the guarantee:

1. Complete an Intent to Transfer Form, have it signed by a GPC TAG counselor and submitted to Georgia Perimeter College's Registrar at least two semesters before planning to transfer.
2. Submit the Undergraduate Application for Admission to the Georgia Institute of Technology during that institution's application filing period for the intended term. Application materials should also include a positive recommendation from the TAG coordinator.
3. Complete, with C grades or better, the courses required for admission by the end of the semester preceding the term the student plans to transfer to the Georgia Institute of Technology. English, math, and lab sciences should be completed two semesters prior to the intended term of transfer.
4. Complete at least 60 Georgia Tech transferable semester credits satisfying all areas of GPC's core curriculum with C grades or better in each course by the end of the term preceding transfer.
5. Of the minimum 60 semester hours, the final 30 must be completed at GPC.
6. Earn a cumulative GPA and combined math/science GPA of at least 2.70 for Georgia residents, 3.00 for non-Georgia US residents, and 3.5 for international students. Because admission to Biomedical Engineering and Mechanical Engineering is highly competitive, applicants to these programs must have a GPA of at least 3.00 for Georgia residents, 3.50 for non-Georgia US residents, and 3.8 for international students. Please see the Georgia Tech transfer admission website for specific GPA requirements.
