

Teaching with Technology When You're Technologically Challenged

Kelly Befus

Cambridge campus, Anoka-Ramsey Community College, Minnesota

What technologies really improve student learning? Do you have to be a technology maven to teach online? This talk will present some simple technology applications in teaching traditional chemistry classes that encourage active learning and participation.