

ABSTRACT

Program Review in the Alamo Community College District San Antonio College

The Program Review process as practiced at San Antonio College will be discussed. San Antonio College is a large urban community college with Fall and Spring semester enrollments of approximately 21,000 to 22,000 students. The college student population is approximately 48% Hispanic, 43% Anglo, 5% Black and 4% of other groups. Each academic program is subject to a formal review every five years and the procedures followed will be addressed.
