

Giving Voice:
Sign to Voice Interpreting
For Deaf Students
In Public School Settings

Presenter: Richard Brumberg – CI/CT, NIC

TARGET AUDIENCE: Advanced interpreting students and professional interpreters interested in the Educational Setting

DESCRIPTION: Many interpreters working in the public schools in the United States fret about voicing (translating from a signed to a spoken language) for Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing students. The interpreters report that many students voice successfully for themselves so the interpreter’s skills stagnate. However, with the influx of strong-ASL Deaf students entering the public schools, those interpreters now face a new and exciting challenge. This two-part workshop will share results of recent publications and theories to form a working guide enabling interpreters to give a clearer voice to Deaf students in signed/spoken school environments.
